

Rob Wallace is an evolutionary epidemiologist with the Agroecology and Rural Economics Research Corps. He is author of Grandes granjas, grandes gripes (Capitán Swing) and Dead Epidemiologists: On the Origins of COVID-19 (Monthly Review Press). He has consulted with the Food and Agriculture Organization and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.